

NOTICE

A lot of queries/e-mails are being received from registered NEET SS candidates regarding the below mentioned:-

1. Only few numbers of seats are reflecting in the seat matrix of NEET Super Speciality online counseling-2017 in first round of counseling.
2. Whether the candidates will be shown with fresh choices for the seats not included in the seat matrix for the first round of counseling and added for second round of counseling.

In representation of the above MCC/DGHS/MoHFW is to state that:-

1. The seat matrix that was reflecting on the website (mcc.nic.in) during the first round of counseling is prepared in reference to the seats provided by the respective colleges/institutes/universities on intramcc.nic.in till 4.00 PM of 14.08.2017, still we are receiving the lot of new seats which are to be added and which was not reflecting earlier will taken up in the second round of the NEET SS online counseling.

It is essential to mention MCC/DGHS has been sending several reminders and issued advertisement in two national daily leading newspapers on 04.08.2017 regarding contribution of super speciality seats since last one month.

2. The candidates who are registered during the first round of online counseling are eligible for both first round of seat and as well as second round of seats if and when they are added. All the registered candidates (whether seat allotted or not during the first round) are eligible for the fresh seats included first time in second round of counseling. Fresh choice filling will be allowed for all eligible candidates in second round.
